A NONPROFIT SERVING DORCHESTER, SOMERSET, WICOMICO & WORCESTER COUNTIES

A Donor Who Believes Support Goes Both Ways

Jo Anne Jackson and Coastal Hospice have been linked for decades. When her mother, Florida Quillen, was diagnosed with a melanoma brain tumor in 1992, Jackson called upon Coastal Hospice to provide medical equipment and care. "I learned so much from the staff," she said, "(they) made it possible for (her) to pass peacefully at home."

When her son in law became ill, Jackson and her family relied on Coastal Hospice at the Lake. "The staff provided care at the Lake that was not possible at home."

Most recently, after being married for more than 60 years, her husband, Jack, was diagnosed with lung cancer. "We had community and chaplain support, and the night nurse was exceptionally helpful and professional,

Our 2020 "Be an Angel" Campaign Shatters All Fundraising Efforts

And it's all because of you!

After a year like no other, we had no idea what to expect when it came to our year-end appeal, Be An Angel. We should not have even questioned it: 1,362 donors came out in full force, donating a record-breaking $176,539.48!

Be An Angel is our primary fundraising effort. Proceeds help offset patient costs not covered by Medicare, Medicaid and private insurance and supports our community-based Bereavement Program. "No one is ever turned away from hospice care because of financial need, and that is only possible through the support of our amazing donors," said Alane Capen, President. "I must tell you; the response was unbelievably uplifting. Hundreds upon hundreds of donations of all amounts rolled in, smashing all of our previous fundraising records."

Each holiday season, Coastal Hospice encourages its Lower Shore neighbors to be "angels" by including the organization in their year-end giving. This year's theme was "An Angel in your heart, they say, will give you guidance every day," an idea that clearly resonated. Eight Angel Trees sprinkled throughout the region were decorated with elegant angel ornaments on which donors had written the names of those loved ones.

Many donors were thrilled to hear their remembrances read on the 47 ABC/WMDT Morning News each day, all month before New Year's.

"Special thanks must go to the companies that displayed the trees; our Provider Relations Team which set them up and delivered the angel ornaments; our Volunteer Services department and a team of volunteers who assisted in collecting ornaments and mailing acknowledgements; Coastal Style for its donation of a wonderful feature; and of course, our media partner, 47ABC/WMDT whose commitment is remarkable," added Tammy Patrick, Director of Advancement.

From the Desk of...
Alane Capen, President

Dear Friends,
I feel as if I should apologize for another pandemic-focused letter! "COVID-19 fatigue" is real, but with vaccines beginning to reach the arms of the public and spring coming (who else can't wait to get outdoors?) we are beginning to see real progress.

Which does not mean we can let our guard down. We have some highly effective tools against the virus. First are those vaccines, which, while approved by "emergency order" have been significantly tested through clinical trials to ensure they meet the highest safety standards. Millions of people have received them with little or no issue beyond fatigue, headache and at times a low-grade fever.

Masking, social distancing and hand washing have helped to substantially drive down infection rates. The spikes after Thanksgiving and Christmas solidified for many that gathering with people outside their bubbles was and remains dangerous, maybe even more so with the spring weather coming. Never before has "spring fever" been such a risk for something so potentially deadly.

If you have not already done so, you can register for the vaccine in a number of places. Start with your county health department or hospital system, such as Tidal Health. Walmart, CVS and Walgreens will also be vaccinating people. Some are compiling waiting lists for when the vaccine is more widely available. You can get it even if you have had the virus. (Indications are you can get the virus more than once, like the flu.)

You can learn more about the vaccines at www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/vaccines. To see how your county's COVID-19 infection rate is rising or falling, this tool can help: <https://coronavirus.maryland.gov/>.

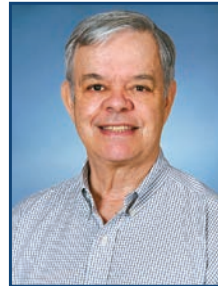

Stay safe and healthy, and enjoy the coming Spring – safely, of course,

Alane

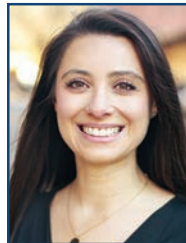

Board Member Moves

It is bittersweet when members join and leave our Board. Those who have served have meant much to the organization and we are sad to see them go; feelings tempered by the excitement of having new members join with new ideas and enthusiasm.

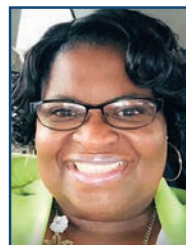

Leaving our Board is Byron Braniff, who has served the maximum three terms of three years each, culminating in the position of Vice Chair. The owner of a retail company for 45 years and a property management company in Ocean City for 35 years, Byron brought a strong business background to his seat. He was instrumental in the creation of Stansell House, and he and his wife, Anne, sponsored the Admissions Office. His favorite projects included working on the Stansell House Strategic Plan and working with the Thrift Shop. He told us, "Coastal Hospice is a highly regarded organization that has touched so many lives. It was a pleasure and honor to serve," and we thank him for being instrumental in helping to lead the organization.

We are excited that we to welcome five new Board members, including Filippa Etherton of Tidal Health, Morgan Fisher of Williams, Moore, Schokley & Harrison, LLP, Dr. LaKeshia Harris of University of Maryland Eastern Shore, Dr. Sharon Milbourne Washington of Tidal Health, and Dr. Tina Reid, R.N. of Salisbury University School of Nursing.

Several Board Members have changed positions on the Executive Committee. Steve Farrow has graciously agreed to another term as Chair. Richard Laws (prev. Treasurer) has stepped up to Vice Chair, with Madalaine How (prev. Secretary) filling the Treasurers spot. Immediate Past President Mike Dunn has filled the role of Secretary. We have created a new position, Member at Large, which is being filled by Board Member Wiltssy Payero-Edeen.

Returning Board Members (in alphabetical order) are: Colleen A. Bunting, David A. Dykes, Parisa Gholamvand, Roger L. Harrell, Andy Kim, Robert M. Purcell, Anthony Sarbanes and Margaret M. Whitten. We thank them all for their commitment and service.

Dear Dr. Waris,
My husband has advanced-stage cancer and has developed breathing problems. The drugs he's taking for pain do not really impact breathlessness. Can you recommend any other approaches?

Thank you.
C.M. Salisbury, MD

Dear C.M.,

I am sorry to hear of your husband's challenges. Few things are as scary as being unable to breathe well, and anxiety can make it worse.

I recently learned through an article from John's Hopkins of a systemic review of 29 randomized clinical trials of breathlessness in 2,423 adults with advanced cancer. It has confirmed what has been suspected by many practitioners – there are several nonpharmacological interventions that may help improve breathlessness, including fan therapy (the actual blowing of a fan in a patient's face) and bilevel ventilation (air pressure delivered through a face mask covering the mouth and nose).

The results appear in the journal JAMA Oncology, and the study recommends that these approaches should be treated as the "first line of defense, before opioids and benzodiazepines" which can also cause drowsiness, constipation and other side effects. In the hospital, fan therapy and bilevel ventilation brought relief lasting for a few minutes to a few hours. During outpatient treatment, acupuncture and reflexology, as well as the combining of activity and rehabilitation with behavioral, psychosocial, and integrative medicine, brought relief lasting for a few weeks to months.

Most importantly, harms associated with nonpharmacological interventions were minimal. To learn more about these approaches to breathlessness, please ask your caregiver or call us directly.

A Generous Donation That Keeps on Giving

Coastal Hospice has long been a recipient of United Way funding, so it always feels great to return the support. In February, our staff, represented by (from left) Renee Smith, Manager of Volunteer Services, Alane Capen, President, and Bob Miller, Senior Director presented a check for $10,000 to Claire Otterbein, Community Impact Manager for the United Way (second from right).

The donation was equal to the one made the previous year.

"Without the support of the United Way of the Lower Eastern Shore, so many needs – including those of some of our own patients – would go unmet," explained Miller. "We are thrilled that during the heart of the pandemic, our staff could come together to generously support the United Way and the dozens of local organizations it serves."

VOLUNTEER

Renee Smith
Dir. of Volunteer Services

Spring is here and not a moment too soon! The Volunteer Services Office team is excited to share that we have slowly begun to bring a few patient care and patient support volunteers back to the Stansell House to visit with patients and caregivers, assist with delivering meal trays and laundry, and to cover the reception desk. As volunteers return they are receiving re-entry review training the patient care and patient support roles. Be sure to watch your email for various volunteering opportunities as they become available.

We are extremely grateful for the ways, while limited, our volunteers have been able to help during the COVID-19 restrictions. As you can see in this newsletter, a hardy handful of volunteers suited up to deliver holiday cheer in December. In addition, over 60 volunteers have taken turns since last April checking in with patients and caregivers by phone, bringing their own cheer and conversation. Three patient care volunteers have been visiting patients since last August on an as-needed basis at our inpatient unit at Coastal Hospice at the Lake.

Since last May, Thrift Shop volunteers have been sorting, pricing, stocking shelves and assisting staff to keep our the store open to the public. (We can always use more hands at the Thrift Shop, so if you are interested in volunteering, please call the Volunteer Services Office at 410-742-8732. We have also had two patient support staff volunteers assisting in the office with mail and payroll activities. We greatly appreciate the commitment and patience of all of these volunteers as we maneuvered through the last 12 months of uncertainty.

Which would make this a good point in my letter to recognize that April is National Volunteer Month! We thank you all, even those who have not been able to come back, for all you have done, are doing and will do to help Coastal Hospice. We applaud your patience as well. We want everyone back as much as you do!

Recently we have begun to receive requests for our Introduction to Coastal Hospice training. Our goal is to have our first training later in the Spring of 2021. We are looking at various options including the potential for virtual training for the required courses. More information will follow as the details are ironed out. If you or someone you know is interested in more details regarding our volunteering roles with Coastal Hospice, please feel free to reach out to our office at 410-742-8732.

We miss you all and are looking forward to seeing you soon!

Fondly,

Renee

Spring Cleaning? Please Donate!

If you are cleaning out drawers, closets, garages and attics, please consider donating gently used clothing, shoes, toys and games, books and videogames, and small appliances and furniture to the Coastal Hospice Thrift Shop. Donations are tax deductible as allowed by law, and you will be helping support our charitable care programs. Pick-up may be available. Call the Thrift Shop to learn more and follow us on Facebook.

Recommended Reading

When a patient comes onto our hospice service, their family receives one of the mostly helpful books we have read, called

"When Death is Near – A Guide for Families, Friends and Caregivers." This compassionate, easy-to-read booklet can help prepare you for what to expect when someone you know is in the final weeks or days of life. Topics include physical and social changes near the end of life, how to say goodbye, signs that death may be near, what to expect at the moment of death, and care for family and caregivers. We cannot recommend it more highly.

VIEWPOINT

Saying Goodbye to One of Our Own

It is with a heavy heart that we share the recent loss of one of our wonderful volunteers. Dave Duitscher was a tremendous part of our Coastal Hospice family for more than two decades, willing to assist with any events or projects. He loved being Santa during our Santa Runs, assisting at our annual Children's Bereavement Camp, delivering flowers to patients and caregivers, training staff about the importance of the We Honor Veteran's program at our annual Skills Fair, and most notably, performing the "We Honor Veterans" presentations for our veteran patients. Those who knew Dave know that he had a "Hospice Heart" and that he loved everyone at Coastal Hospice. We loved him just as much. Coastal Hospice and our community has lost a truly wonderful, kind, and compassionate individual.

Raising Holiday Spirits Across the Shore

Our Volunteers turned out in full force this holiday season! It took some reimagining, but every one of the 200 plus patients on our service in mid-December found themselves on the Coastal Hospice Santa Run "Nice List".

Santas and Elves loaded up their personal sleighs and delivered gift bags filled with helpful items such as hand lotion, warm socks, lip balm and snacks to each patient's home, leaving it safely by the front door. The gift also included a beautiful poinsettia plant, funded through gifts from the Quota Club of Wicomico County and the Democratic Women's Society of Ocean Pines. Caregivers made the list two, with a second gift bag filled with candles, bath bombs, hand sanitizer and other goodies, provided by the members of Delta Sigma Omega chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Can You Make A Twiddlemuff?

Calling all knitters and crocheters: Twiddlemuffs provide sensory stimulation for people with dementia, helping to soothe restless hands and captivate attention. They also help patients stay calm and warm. The muffs have items sewn on them like buttons, ribbons and zippers. We found a free knitting pattern here: <https://www.goldencarers.com/how-to-make-twiddlemuffs/5015/> and a free crochet pattern here: <https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/twiddle-muff>, and there are many more online. If you have time to make one for one of our patients, we would appreciate it. You can drop them by the Main Office, on Mon-Fri. from 10AM to 4PM.

What Does Spiritual Care Really Mean?

Sometimes, all a patient or caregiver needs to get through a moment is support and our Spiritual Care staff is ready to serve. Our team of eight chaplains reach across a number of faiths, and while they are available to minister in the religious sense, they are also available for conversation, comfort and companionship in non-religious ways.

To explain the role, Spiritual Care Services Manager Rev. Sharon Hutchinson, has recorded two brief videos that can be found on our website.

African Americans Medical Pioneers

Our well-received Facebook series during Black History Month brought to light a few of the notable African Americans who supported advancements in end-of-life care or received hospice care.

Harriet Tubman, Abolitionist, Activist; (above) founder of the Tubman Home for Aged and Indigent Negroes in 1908 in Auburn, NY, where she eventually became a patient, dying in 1913.

Charles Mills, Medical Book Illustrator and Fine Artist known for depicting African American History; died in hospice in 2009.

George Crockett, Jr., Attorney, Jurist, Congressman (MI); author of the Mandela Freedom Resolution; died in hospice 1997.

keeping Jack comfortable.” She added, “Jack appreciated the We Honor Veterans program, which recognized (his) time in the military.”

Jackson, who is an Eastern Shore native and retired Wicomico County Public Schools teacher and administrator, continues to give back to the community, serving on the boards of several organizations. In 1999, she and Jack were honored with our Jean Camie Jackson Volunteer Award and she continues to support Coastal Hospice through the annual “Be an Angel” appeal.

“These are difficult experiences, but with the support of Coastal Hospice, I did not have to endure them alone,” she said. “I support them by contributing financially so others can receive the support I did.”
